Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no description in the Specification nor depiction in the figures of a second insulating film buried inside the semiconductor substrate and positioned over the first insulating film.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as obvious over Park et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,521,115) and Bronner et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,606,188).

Park et al. show most aspects of the instant invention (e.g. Figures 2 to 10) including:

- a semiconductor substrate 10
- an element isolation insulating film including a first insulating film 56 buried and inside said substrate to define an active element area and a second insulating film 80 shallower, wider and position over the first film
- elements including a capacitor node 55 formed in a trench 22
- contact layer contacting 55' said node and 26 an under side of the second insulating film and a side the first insulating film.

Park et al. does not show the second insulating film buried inside said substrate. Bronner et al. teach (e.g. Figure 1) to bury a second insulating film 14 inside a substrate 12 over a first insulating film 16 to allow scalability below 2 volts (Column 1 Lines 43 to 45). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to make bury a second insulating film inside a substrate over a first insulating film as taught by Bronner et al. in the device of Park et al. to allow scalability below 2 volts.

R sponse to Arguments

5. The Applicants' arguments with respect to Claims 12 and 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2 to 11 are allowed.
7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: a semiconductor memory device as claimed including the trenches of two adjacent trench capacitors located under the gate of a corresponding transistor could not be anticipated nor, in combination, be rendered obvious over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
